Washington News

WASHINGTON Aug 5 The Cabinet session continued two hours and a half It was confined to routine business Nothing was said about an extra session of Congress

The President has appointed Bailey of ... Consul at Hongkong

It is known from the President himself that he will not call an extra session of Congress unless the war in Europe shall so affect our interests as to render one necessary

WASHINGTON Aug 5—Official notification of war between France and Prussia having been received yesterday the fact is made known that the President is determined to issue a proclamation of neutrality The proclamation will particularly explain the neutrality laws so that they may be fully understood by the people

The President replied to a question in regard to Frelinghuysen that he would probably leave for Europe in the latter part of August and that he accepted the official appointment

Political News

RICHMOND August 5—A dispatch from Raleigh says the Conservatives have carried the North Carolina Legislature

MEMPHIS August 5—The judicial election yesterday resulted in the defeat of the Republicans by 2 000 majority Colonel Eaton U S Marshal arrested the officers of election of the sixth ward for violation of the law enforcing the ... 14th and 15th amendments Officials are taking the depositions of a large number of colored voters in regard to frauds and illegitimate votes

BY THE CABLES.

The Affair at Saarbrucken

LONDON August 5—A correspondent endorsed by the Times as trustworthy and neutral gives the following interesting details of the battle of Saarbrucken The French took some prisoners but no cannon They lost forty killed and sixty wounded The French force in the battle is estimated at 40 000 Prussians only 6 000 The artillery won the fight There was but little infantry and no cavalry engaged It was the 9th Prussian regiment not the 50th as reported which was engaged in the battle Three companies of the 40th held their ground against the French until the latter had fully developed their strength The small force of Prussians then retired

French Prisoners at Frankfort

FRANKFORT August 5—Noon—A train has just arrived bringing 500 French prisoners from Weissenburg They will be sent to Northern Prussia The total number of prisoners taken by the Prussians in the fight was 800 including 18 officers

General Military News

PARIS August 5—Marshal McMahon is concentrating forces under his command at Weissenburg

LONDON August 5—The report that Saarlouis has been taken by the French proves unfounded The report came from Paris and is contradicted by a later dispatch, which says there has been no fighting at that point yet

BREST August 5—The North German three masted schooner Ande ... captured by a French man of war was brought to this port to day

PARIS August 5—La Liberte publishes a private dispatch sent at midnight last night from Strasbourg that McMahon beat the Prussians yesterday evening the latter evacuating Weissenburg Telegraph communication with Weissenburg has been established. The same journal adds that McMahon moved yesterday to ... Weissenburg He was but two hours march from that point and his men marched at quickstep He has between 60 000 and 70 000 men To day there will be about 150 000 men concentrated near Weissenburg The loss of the Prussians in the recent engagement reached 10,500 in killed, wounded and prisoners

The French forces defending the town were but 8 000 or 10 000 strong while the attacking force combined fully 40 000 men The enemy was so severely crippled that he could not follow the French when they retired

The Journal Officiel says the French, to ... the number of 7 000 or 8 000 who were engaged in the affair before Weissenburg had to contend with two Prussian corps including picked men of the Prussian Guard It adds in spite of inferior numbers our regiments resisted the assaults of the enemy for several hours with admirable ... When they were forced to give way the loss of the enemy was so severe that he did not pursue While at Saarbrucken we have broken the Prussian line our own remains intact The army of Baden yesterday crossed the French frontier and advanced to Lauterburg where it established its head quarters and seized some boats in the river The French loss at Neurkircher was three killed and one wounded They shelled St Jean ...

LONDON August 5—... A M—No news of interest has been received since the account of the battle of Weissenburg

The New York Herald has a special from London dated August 5th which says a dispatch from Hogaron to day says the defeat of the French at Weissenburg was disastrous General Douay's division composed of picked fighting men was routed and several of them reached here in a demoralized condition. Weissenburg is in the possession of the Prussians A general advance from here to Saarlouis is expected

A Tribune special correspondent writes from Paris Thursday evening there was almost a mutiny in the Chalons Camp among the Garde Mobile Marshal Canrobert inspected them yesterday He had two of the ringleaders brought to drum head court martial and shot directly It is known here that the commissary of the Garde Mobile is very bad and they want shelter and food

A Tribune special from London of August 5th says the story that England has presented an ultimatum to France and Prussia respecting Belgium neutrality is discredited in the House and was considered finally exploded by Gladstone's answer to Jenkinson

LONDON August —9 A M—Advices from the seat of war this morning concur in representing that the corps under Marshal McMahon advanced after a brush with the Prussians last evening and now hold a strong position on the Bavarian frontier

Later advices from Prussia fully confirm the complete success of the victory at Weissenburg

LONDON August 6—1 30 P M There is a better feeling in markets and no change Rumors prevail that fighting is now going on but no confirmatory dispatch comes to hand

Earthquake in Greece

ATHENS Aug 3—via London Aug 6—A terrible earthquake has visited the ... of Corinth and the towns of Alp... and Ga...da and several villages are destroyed and many persons are killed and wounded

Attitude of other Powers

LONDON Aug ...—The statement is reiterated that Russia's relation to the belligerents ... depends on Austria If the latter maintains neutrality Russia will also remain neutral The only event that could alter this situation would be the rising of the Poles

The St Petersburg journals report that Russia has no designs on the Danubian principalities

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 6—The ... came down from Vallejo to day with a full cargo of wheat for Liverpool

Judge Sawyer to day sentenced J ... Niland, Alex Walker and ... Harrington for garroting and robbing a man of $1 0 to twenty one years each in the State prison The jury in the case of Quinn the murderer of Maggie Ryan returned a verdict of murder in the second degree Though the prisoner had exhibited many indications of insanity during the trial his countenance changed quickly on the return of the verdict and there was such an evident relief to his mind as to lead those observing him closely to the conclusion that he was in full possession of his intellect The jury is said to have been equally divided when they went out and one juror declared that his conscience and his God would not allow him to render a verdict which would hang the prisoner as he had doubts of his sanity and was bound to give the prisoner the benefit of that doubt The crowd showed no indications of an intention to lynch the prisoner though evidently strongly excited against him The sentence will probably be for the full term allowed by law

Sufficient approximation to the completion of the census has been made to render it certain that the population of San Francisco will not fall short of 160 000

Gen Schofield and staff are holding a reception at the Lick House this evening

The regatta this afternoon lost nearly all its interest from the cold wind and drizzling mist which toward the end hid the entire fleet from the crowd on shore and rendered the steamer excursion anything but a pleasant one

A gentleman residing on Park street complains that two men claiming to be detectives visited his home yesterday stated that they were detectives and demanded his keys searched his trunks read his letters and finally telling him to say nothing about it as it was their regular practice He had just arrived from Australia and cannot find out who they were or what their object was

The yacht race was won either by Startled Fawn or Emerald The latter came in two minutes and forty seconds ahead but the former is allowed by rule four minutes extra for difference in size which would probably give her the victory The regatta but for the weather would have been a brilliant one

The Spanish Gulch Gold Mines

[From the Dalles Mountaineer]

The Spanish Gulch gold mines are situated on the Canyon City road a mile or two be... ... and about one hundred and forty five miles from this city Spanish Gulch is about five miles long, and prospects well the entire length There are a number of other gulches in the vicinity and they all bear a resemblance to Spanish Gulch and no doubt will be found on being prospected, to be equally as rich These diggings were discovered some eight years ago by a party of Spaniards who sunk a shaft just above the road to the depth of about twenty feet but as the water came in on them very fast and as the Indians were dangerous in that vicinity they were compelled to abandon it Several years afterwards some miners from Canyon City among them Dr McCoy took possession of the diggings and after sinking several prospect holes surveyed and dug a ditch some five or six miles long to convey the water from Rock Creek to their gulch. This ditch was completed by the spring of 1866 but owing to its having been very poorly constructed it continued to break from time to time so that very little work was ever done

This spring the company went to work with renewed energy rebuilt their ditch put in a large flume in their claim to wash the gold and pass off the dirt and rocks through and also put up an excellent hydraulic with a fall of about one hundred and fifty feet From Mr G N Thornbury who is interested in the mines and who also keeps a trading post in the gulch we learn that their company Dr McCoy & Co made their first clean up week before last of a run of thirty ... days which amounted to over two thousand dollars, making an average of something over fourteen dollars to the hand per diem This we consider excellent diggings especially when we take into consideration that the company have all the water they need for eight or nine months in the year and enough ... for ... years ... probably longer,

Several new companies have lately been formed and are engaged in digging ditches ... One company is bringing in Rock ... creek and another ... engaged in digging ditch from Rock Creek below the one already ...

French War Vessels in the Baltic

COPENHAGEN August 6—Ten French men of war to day entered the Baltic This makes nineteen French war vessels now in the Baltic

Dispatches from Paris.

PARIS August 6—9 P M—The Moniteur Du Soir in an extra reports that a combat took place to day at the village of Niderlauterbach near the junction of the Lauter and Rhine. No particulars given

By order of the Prefect of Police all persons now in Paris who live in countries at war with France are summoned to leave the country

PARIS August 6—Evening—La Liberte extra this evening says Recent information shows that heavy fighting has been going on since morning at several points on the frontier

The Journal Du Soir has reason to believe that the Prussian plan of attack is to concentrate at Mayence Coblentz, Darmstadt and Mannheim and march at once into France through Landau This explains the assault on Weissenburg The enthusiasm of the people here over the favorable reports from the frontier is indescribable Enormous crowds are in the streets and around the Bourse, singing patriotic songs The official reports are awaited with great anxiety

The Daily Oregonian

[illegible] MORNING, AUGUST 8, 1870

Trying to Explain

[illegible] in this State is a [illegible] Democracy a good deal of [illegible] special [illegible] of the [illegible] of the United States [illegible] Herald [illegible] Congressman Smith [illegible] the whole of his speech [illegible] that subject and his connection with it [illegible] thus admitted by the Democrats [illegible] that the question is one of paramount importance. Some of them would be very glad to retract what they have said in opposition to the railway interests of the southern counties. The Herald devotes a very long article to the labor of proving that the Democracy are the natural guardians of the interests of that part of the State. That it is clear that they took a very unnatural course in the late election. The southern counties will forever beseech to be saved from such guardians.

Mr Smith however still adheres to his course of opposition to the southern branch railway. He says there is no use in making the grant in accordance with the amendment of Williams, for nobody will ever build a road from the Humboldt into Rogue River valley. Such a grant, in his opinion, would be a piece of absurd folly. Yet Mr Smith is quoted by the Herald as saying that he will vote for the grant. Is this last declaration intended exclusively for consumption in the southern counties? It looks very much that way. The explanation is this: Mr Smith and his associates cannot go back on the [illegible] Pengra ring, and the Central Pacific railroad company therefore they declare that it would be folly and nonsense to give Southern Oregon this grant, since no company would ever construct the road for which it is to provide. But inasmuch as they are sensible that the people of the southern counties do not look at it in that way, and that everybody there considers the plan eminently practicable and absolutely essential to the development and prosperity of that quarter of the State, Mr Smith consents to say that he will stultify himself by voting for a worthless grant which he and his party have repeatedly said will never lead to the construction of a railway. Such are some of the absurdities into which the Democratic politicians are plunging in order to escape a disagreeable and, as they evidently think, a dangerous political dilemma.

But Mr Smith and the Herald profess to think that a railroad will be built through Southern Oregon even if the branch from the Humboldt should come across to Eugene City. It is an already settled fact however that it will not. The Central Pacific company if they succeed in getting the branch on the Pengra route, certainly never will build a road into Rogue river valley. Mr Pengra in his recent letter says they will not and that of late they have entertained no idea of doing it. Their object he declares, will be to make their California and Oregon road connect with the Humboldt-Eugene branch in the Goose lake country and all their recent surveys indicate such a design. Now if they can only get the branch scheme through Congress in accordance with their plans they will have the thing settled. In that event they will build no railway to connect with the Oregon and California road at the southern boundary of the State. Then what follows? There being no connection for that road it will be impossible to build it further south than the head of the Wallamet valley. In this way the valleys of the Umpqua and Rogue rivers will be effectually cut off and ten years hence their lands will be dear at two dollars an acre for sheep pastures.

Such, plainly, is the state of the case. The Democratic politicians see it; hence their labored efforts to convince the people of the southern counties that notwithstanding all that has been said by the Democratic managers against the only policy that can secure for Southern Oregon a railroad, they, the aforesaid managers, are the "natural guardians" of that section. Their course on this subject indicates that they expect it to play an important part in politics, now and hereafter.

A Democratic triumph is reported in North Carolina and the telegraph significantly announces general rioting and bloodshed at the polls. This announcement affords a sufficient explanation of the manner in which the "Democratic victory" was gained. For some time disorder has been prevalent in that State. In consequence of numerous murders committed in several counties where the local authorities made no effort to bring the offenders to justice, the Governor was forced to call out some companies of militia. Of course the Democratic element, which justified the late rebellion, thought this movement to restore order outrageous, and a general system of opposition by violence and intimidation was instituted all over the State by the so-called "conservative" element. It is of a piece with the New Orleans massacre of 1866 and with numerous other like acts of violence. This programme appears to have succeeded at the polls. Of such is the modern "Democratic victory."

The war in Europe begins to cut something of a figure in politics in New York City. The World is outspoken in favor of France and the Germans of New York at meetings recently held have denounced its course. On the other hand the Republican General Committee of the city have published a series of resolutions which have a bias in favor of Prussia. The New Yorker Demokrat approves these resolutions and demands to know — What will the Central Committee of the Democrats of New York [illegible] and will it do anything at all? The Irish [illegible] which it is puts it in a [illegible] on this question. The Fenians all powerful in New York have declared their sympathies for the French. If Tammany Hall will agree with them it will offend the whole German Democracy. Would it declare itself for the cause of the Germans it would shake the foundation of its whole power, the Irish element. A [illegible] dilemma.

Was not that speech of Mr Smith's the other evening wherein he [illegible] he had long [illegible] and [illegible] rebuke to his party for not re-electing him? Instead of sending this great man back for a second term the party has elected a person who never can accomplish what Mr Smith says he has done. If it be said that Mr Smith declined to be a candidate for re-election the answer is that all truly great and modest men decline at the first offer. They want a little persuasion. Didn't Mr Seymour at first decline to be a candidate for President? And didn't Mr Smith just before he was nominated in 1868, write a letter declining to be a candidate? Considered in this view Mr Smith's speech the other evening was a handsome slap at his party and a compliment to Mr Slater.

The war news is [illegible] fragmentary [illegible]. It is a pretty certain [illegible] that a severe battle has [illegible] fought [illegible] of Prussia telegraphs that he has won a complete victory. On the other hand Paris is said to be elated with the news and French funds are said to be improved. The [illegible]

Worth [illegible] a report [illegible] the Rhine [illegible] half [illegible] [illegible] provinces on the French frontier.

FOREIGN NOTES

Stockings are going out of fashion for ladies' street wear in Paris and bare feet and sandals are to be generally introduced. In such a mode Venus may still need wine but she will dispense with corn.

In the second week of June there were 131,934 persons in receipt of parochial relief in London, of whom 3[illegible]84 were in the workhouses and 99,097 were out door paupers. This was an increase of 4,014 upon the numbers of the corresponding period last year.

The mortal remains of Augustina the heroine of the siege sustained at Saragossa against the French have been removed from Ceuta where she died a few years back at a very advanced age to her native city. At all the towns through which they were carried including Madrid, they were received with military honors and attended by commissions of the several corporations.

Mr Roesing Consul General of the North German Confederation at New York wishes it known that the European telegram that the Prussian authorities have issued instructions to Consuls abroad to furnish free outfit to all Germans who wish to return home to volunteer in the army is untrue in every particular. Mr Roesing is fairly run down by people, desirous of information or to volunteer; 20,000 Germans are said to be ready to go from New York, and the name of General Sigel is freely talked of in that connection.

A cable dispatch of July 30 states that Benedetti has written a letter to the Duke de Gramont, Minister of Affairs in which he states that while Minister of France at Berlin Bismarck repeatedly offered to aid France in acquiring Belgium. Benedetti also says "In these conversations Bismarck asked me to draft his propositions and at his dictation I did so and Bismarck retained the draft, saying that he wished to submit it to the King. The Emperor Napoleon rejected the propositions as soon as they came to his knowledge."

An American gentleman writing from Frankfort-on-the-Main says "It is very dry and unhealthy here. There have been no rains this year and consequently there will be no crops. Everything in the bread line is advancing daily in price. The West can send to Europe all the grain it can spare. In France, England and all Germany there will not be half a crop and hay will not be worth cutting. Many are killing their cattle rather than feed them. There will be great suffering in Europe next fall and winter and it will be difficult to find much to eat."

Crown Prince Frederick William of Prussia, who has command of the Prussian forces engaged in the operations reported by telegraph to-day was born in 1831 and received his appointment as General in the Prussian army in 1861. He had the command of the troops in front of Duppel in 1864. He took an active part in the war against Austria for it was he who won the battle of Munchengratz, and at Sadowa he was one of the principal commanding officers. He advanced into Hungarian territory and it was but the armistice which prevented him from entering Pressburg and capturing an entire army corps.

The Imperial printing office at Constantinople is becoming an important institution. The Arabian Nights can now be printed amidst the scenes they describe. What genii ever accomplished more? At this office 16 steam printing presses are now employed besides several excellent lithographic presses and a correspondingly large staff of compositors. In addition to the official paper the Takvimi Vakai and the Government work it prints a number of commentaries on the Koran and other religious publications, as also general job work for the public. It has recently published two works of special interest, the Arab text of Abulfeda's History of the Caliphs.

"Italy?" said a celebrated Austrian statesman interrogatively in the haughty days of overwhelming power and overweening pride gone by, "Italy is but a geographical expression!" The fair peninsula was then subdivided into three or four kingdoms and half a dozen petty duchies, with a province or two belonging to outside Powers. To-day she is all united from the Alps to the end of the boot in one government excepting the States which still recognize the Sovereign Pontiff as their sole supreme temporal ruler. Her population now, even with that exception remembered, is about 27,000,000 souls and her superficial area more than 100,000 square miles. Her army, which in 1848 amounted in Sardinia, the only section of her then subdivided territory that seemed national, to only 50,000 men now consists of 420,000 men in all for field operations of which the number ready for immediate mobilization is 280,000.

CURRENT NOTES

Captain Buel, of the ordnance department U S army was assassinated at Leavenworth on the 23d of July. A soldier has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder.

The Boston Journal in speaking of the political campaign in Massachusetts says: "In all probability the Republicans will have as their standard bearer Governor Claflin. The Democrats will rally around Colonel John Quincy Adams and the Labor Reform party, if they desert Mr Chamberlin will put up Mr Colby of Newburyport."

The Canadian separationists complain that "Rideau Hall," the Governor General's residence, will cost $250,000 instead of $80,000 as originally estimated and think that this is exorbitant especially since the occupant's annual salary is $50,000—double that of the President of the United States.

Until September next the present liquor law of Massachusetts is in force and the sale of anything to be drank on the premises is illegal. On the 1st of September, under the new law if seven citizens of a town and fifty of a city have petitioned for a popular vote an election is to be held to see whether the sale of ale, lager beer and cider will be allowed. If affirmatively decided it will be legal to sell these beverages over the bar to be drank on the premises.

Minority representation gains ground theoretically at least. Its introduction in the Constitution of Illinois secures for it the fairest trial it has yet obtained and the results of its working there will be an object of study to every thinking politician. A movement is on foot to elect and educate public opinion on the subject in Pennsylvania and we anticipate similar efforts in other States. Any relief to minorities from this method of reform will be slow especially while the reform itself remains more or less experimental.

The New York Legislature of 1869 authorized the appropriation of thirty-three lots owned by the city near Fourth avenue and Forty third street for a new Harlem depot. Commissioners appointed by Judge Ingraham fixed the price thereof at $25,000. Appeal was made to the Supreme Court general term on the ground that the property could only be taken for public use whereas the erection of a depot for a private corporation was private use. It was also urged that the rate of compensation was absurdly low. Judges Barnard and Cardozo appointed new commissioners of appraisal and already $1,000,000 has been offered for the property. Vanderbilt was to get for one fortieth of that amount.

A Victoria paper says: "Whaling on British Columbian waters bids fair to assume enlarged proportions. The Dawson company has been strengthened by the addition of two of our enterprising fellow citizens and has been reorganized and registered in accordance with the provisions of the Joint Stock Companies Act with a capital of $20,000. Our whaling grounds are universally admitted to be excellent and we feel assured that it only requires the application of skill, enterprise and capital to render that one of the most attractive and remunerative of the numerous interests of the colony."

We have received a catalogue of the Corvallis College being the fifth issued by that institution. The attendance during the last College year was very favorable indeed and we should judge the institution was in a flourishing condition.

From the Albany Register: Mrs Geo Vernon died suddenly at her residence about eight miles south of this city on Thursday night of last week. She retired at the usual hour apparently in good health and was found to have expired some time during the night by her children who attempted to wake her next morning. Mr Vernon was absent from home, harvesting on the night [illegible]. She is supposed to have died of heart disease. She leaves four small children.

From the Statesman: The land adjoining Salem on the East seems to be coming into market and to be appreciating rapidly in price. We learn that Thomas Cuttle bought 40 acres the other day of G W Gray situated north of and adjoining the Parrish claim for $1,000, being $100 per acre. Some time ago Geo P Holman bought of Henry Boon a quarter section of the old Ike Baker land claim for $4[illegible] per acre. Dr Skiff lately bought 8 acres of R. Williams part of the same claim but nearer it towards town for $1,000, $125 per acre. Land is too plenty around Salem for speculators to have a monopoly; the sales we have alluded to have been made for actual occupancy.

On Thursday last the thermometer at Boise City showed a temperature of 108 deg in the shade. Seven fights occurred on Main street on that day.

The assessed value of taxable property in nineteen counties of Washington Territory is $9,521,089. The two remaining counties will probably add to it $175,000.

The Secretary of the Treasury has awarded to the Alaska Commercial Company the lease of the privilege of taking fur seals on the islands of St. Paul and St George for the period of 20 years —the company to pay $55,000 per annum rent, $2.62½ on each skin and 50 cents for every gallon of oil and other provisions in accordance with the act of Congress.

MEXICO

The Fourth of July was commemorated in the city of Mexico by hoisting the stars and stripes over the Legation and Consulate and over the office of the Two Republics. The Government decorated the public buildings with the Mexican flag in honor of the event.

There are many candidates for the office of President of Mexico. Juarez declines to be a candidate again. Conspicuous among those who are intriguing for the position are Escobedo, Porfirio Diaz and Lerdo Tejada. The first named is a very able military chieftain. But none of these can promise a quiet and successful administration for Mexico.

The Mexican papers are discussing the action of the Mohican in destroying the pirate Forward in Mexican waters. One party claimed that the act was an outrage upon Mexican sovereignty and honor while the other contended that, whether strictly in accordance with international law or not, it was a very praiseworthy and serviceable action for which Mexicans ought to be thankful.

Duration of Late European Wars

Dickens. —A writer to Lippincott's [illegible] tells us that the present Charles Dickens does not in the least resemble his illustrious father in appearance or manner. He is a quiet [illegible] somewhat reticent but withal exceedingly gentlemanly and kindly man of perhaps 30 years. He dresses more plainly and quietly than did his father; his manner is not so active, his features are heavier and his face rounder. He joined the editorial corps of All the Year Round upon the retirement of Mr Wills about two years ago and bids fair to be as successful as the elder Dickens especially in the editorial chair, being an industrious worker, personally greatly liked by the [illegible] as well as the rest of the world and having excellent judgment and literary taste. [illegible] while they give no hint that he has inherited the great genius of the elder, are sufficient to prove that he has decided literary ability. Notice Relating to Artificial Limbs

WAR DEPARTMENT
SURGEON GENERAL'S OFFICE
WASHINGTON 15th July 1870

CONGRESS HAVING PROVIDED BY ACTS APproved June 1 [illegible] June 30 and July 11 1870 for the [illegible] every five years of Artificial Limbs or the value thereof in money to officers, soldiers, seamen and marines who have lost limbs in the service of the United States, the following instructions are published for the benefit of those interested.

Application should be made direct to the Surgeon General from whose office the necessary blanks will be furnished on request.

Upon application for limbs in kind orders will be given by the Surgeon General upon any manufacturer selected who shall first have filed a bond in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars with two sureties, to furnish good and satisfactory limbs without extra charge to the soldier and make good all defects of material or workmanship without additional charge, subject in all cases to the inspection of such persons as the Surgeon General may designate.

Blank forms of bonds will be furnished by this Office.

Transportation to and from the place of fitting the limb will also be furnished upon a request addressed to the Surgeon General.

Applications for commutation will be certified by the Surgeon General and transmitted to the Commissioner of Pensions for payment through the pension agents.

As full instructions will be forwarded from this Office with the blank form of application—the expense of employing an Attorney or Agent will be in no case necessary.

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST [illegible]

[illegible] On Wednesday a fire [illegible] Water [illegible] [illegible] at the [illegible] the recent [illegible] is raging [illegible] their buildings [illegible] yesterday afternoon [illegible] the east side [illegible] country toward [illegible] Milwaukie [illegible] Altogether the [illegible] fences were [illegible] toward the [illegible] The flames were rushing [illegible] which was [illegible] [illegible] great danger [illegible] [illegible] There appears [illegible] a heavy rain should come [illegible] the leaves and grass are dry, burning readily [illegible] and rapidly and [illegible] much of the timber for miles around has been cut down for lumber and the old dead tops take fire almost as quickly [illegible] the wood burns [illegible] Burning leaves rise in the air and fall [illegible] in advance frequently setting new fires. Houses [illegible] danger of being fired [illegible] thought the whole country to Milwaukie and beyond in that direction and out toward Sandy [illegible] burn over. If so the destruction of property will be immense. Some of the farmers who are in [illegible] danger are setting back fires. This seems to be about the only feasible prevention.

There is also a fire in the woods west of the city which seems to be spreading and still another on the mountain up toward Judge Mar[illegible] farm. These fires are likely to run along the hill range to the south and they may spread so as to become destructive to property in the country toward the Tualatin.

ST HELEN'S HALL. —A catalogue of the [illegible] and pupils of this school for the past year ending July 18 [illegible] has been laid upon our table. The following is the list of managers and teachers: The Right Rev. B. Wistar Morris, Rector; Miss Mary B. Rodney, Principal; Miss Lydia Rodney, First Assistant; Miss Clementina Rodney, Teacher of Music; Mrs Annie Reed, Teacher of Music; Miss Anna Atkinson, Assistant Teacher; Miss Catharine C. H. Burton, Assistant Teacher. The pupils from last September to July numbered 142 of whom seven were pupils in the musical department only. The next term of school will begin on the first Monday of September and end December 24th. Vacation then till January 3d. The catalogue contains further a list of tuition and boarding charges, course of studies, text books and an Appendix containing an article from Bishop Doane and [illegible] A Word or two with Parents, and the address of Bishop Morris at the closing exercises of the first year, June 30th 1870.

BREADSTUFFS. —There was some time back a pretty general impression that the Wallamet valley was drained of all its spare grain and flour. This impression however proves to have been entirely erroneous. Since the recent advance in the price of flour it is astonishing to find it coming into market from all parts of the valley in considerable quantities. We have heard dealers [illegible] that there should be so much of the old crop still on hand. The receipts at this city for the last two or three weeks are almost as considerable as during the early winter season when navigation is good and the bulk of the crop on hand. On Saturday the P. T. Co's wharf was crowded with flour and wheat and most of the [illegible] rooms in the city are full. There is a pretty strong disposition to ship off on the part of interior owners and some of the city dealers [illegible] all they can by the steamers. The Oriflamme to sail this evening will take a large freight, mostly all flour.

ASTORIA ITEMS. —From our regular correspondent. Astoria, August 3rd 1870—Very warm weather; everybody and their children are off [illegible] camping out, some berrying and some fishing.

August 4th—The bark Almata was towed to sea on Friday by the tug Astoria.

Weather still warm.

Several families have arrived from abroad within the past few days.

Several lawyers have arrived from Portland to attend the Circuit Court to be held here on the 8th of this month. There are several cases on the docket.

August 5th—Thermometer at 2 P. M. 80°, at 3 P. M. 86°, at 4 P. M. 85°, at 6 P. M. 86°.

The Okanogon arrived with thirty passengers from Portland, the most of whom went to Clatsop on the Josie M[illegible].

SPECIAL POLICEMEN. —The Herald of yesterday morning contained an item intimating that four of the special policemen were hanging about the Cosmopolitan saloon corner the greater part of Saturday evening and till one o'clock Sunday morning, the inferential charge being that they were neglecting their official duties. Four at least of the six special policemen state that the charge is wholly untrue, that they were not standing on that corner at one o'clock or any other hour of the night nor did they pass it during the evening; that they attended during the whole night to their proper business on their proper beats and that the attack on them by the Herald is gratuitous slander.

MARRYING IN HASTE [illegible]. —A gentleman aged sixty applied for a license on Saturday, to marry a lady of fifty years. These people are certainly not marrying in haste to repent at leisure. Unless they should live beyond the allotted time they will not have a great deal of leisure in which to repent. Their years of discretion and all that suggest that in this case there can be little chance of mistake and that no lawyer need look for a fee in a divorce suit.

PASSENGERS FOR VICTORIA AND PUGET SOUND. —The propeller steamship California sailed at six o'clock Saturday for Victoria and Puget Sound. The following is the list of passengers: B. Z. Holmes, James Crosson, Col Taylor, Miss A. Kerry, Miss F. M. [illegible], A. A. Hemenway, M. G. McCarty, Rev Father Weninger [illegible] J. B. Montgomery and 3 children, S. L. Fellows, Miss Ellen Peters, Miss Lillie Mountain, [illegible] Albright, Miss Allewright, Cap Phenix, Rev Father Prefontaine.

STAGE ASSOCIATION. —The Herald of Sunday says: "The regular hack drivers of this city have organized themselves into a society with a view of furthering and protecting their labor interests. The Star [illegible] is the name selected and an article in the constitution requires that each member have a [illegible] on a conspicuous place upon his [illegible]. For the first time in the history of the [illegible] become the [illegible] out of [illegible]."

SMOKE. —The atmosphere yesterday was extremely smoky. As the wind has blown for several days [illegible] from the west or north [illegible] it is certain that [illegible] must come from fires [illegible] the C[illegible] [illegible] the extremely dry weather to be expected during the present month [illegible] the [illegible] we have [illegible] by the oldest inhabitant.

COUNTY COURT. [illegible] Saturday August [illegible]

[illegible] Thos. J. [illegible] for [illegible] judgment against [illegible] property returned [illegible]

The remainder of the day was occupied in the transaction of [illegible] business of no importance.

[illegible] The papers [illegible] this news from [illegible] arrest [illegible] Since then [illegible] through Washington [illegible] and [illegible] where he [illegible]

[illegible] The regular [illegible] of the [illegible] day evening [illegible] this [illegible] Mount [illegible]

FUNERAL. —The steamer [illegible] made an extra trip yesterday [illegible] taking the remains of Mrs [illegible] at the cemetery [illegible] south east of the [illegible] attended at the [illegible] large concourse of the people of Oregon City.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT. —The Court will convene at 10 o'clock this morning.

BOARD OF DELEGATES —The regular meeting of the Board of Delegates was held last Saturday evening at the Council Chamber. Ben I ... a delegate, resigned his seat. Beyond ... there was little business of importance. We understand that Mr Norden has also resigned the presidency of his fire company—Multnomah No. 1.

FUNERAL.—The steamer Alert made an extra trip yesterday to Oregon City taking the remains of ... for burial at the cemetery two miles ... of the city. The funeral exercises were ... at the Congregational church by a very ... concourse of the people of Oregon City.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—This Court will convene ... o'clock this morning.

CHALLENGE FOR A RACE —One M C Meltire challenges any man in the State of Oregon to run with him a race of three miles for $500 a side. If the challenge be taken and the two men run during this hot weather the thousand dollars will defray all expenses of the two funerals in very good style.

FOR CHINA —It is reported that the ship ... has been chartered by the leading Chinese firms for a round trip to Hongkong and back. At present the vessel is undergoing some repairs and her sailing may not take place for some weeks.

THIEVES AT OREGON CITY —While at Oregon City yesterday we heard of several cases of thievery prowling among hen roosts, and similar acts of unknown rogues. We heard of one fellow who went for chickens and carried away several birds shot.

RUN OVER BY A HAND CAR —We hear that one of a party of workmen who were coming down from the shops Saturday evening on a hand car was by some accident run over and badly hurt. We did not obtain his name.

BIDS FOR STONE —According to the terms of Mr St John's advertisement the receiving of bids for furnishing cut stone for the U S court house and postoffice will cease at noon to day and the bids will be opened.

CORN FILES —The latest thing out is the Japanese corn file a queer looking little instrument advertised this morning by Emil Bories. With the Japanese tool every man can be his own chiropodist.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC —The teachers and children of the Episcopal Sunday School at East Portland had a very pleasant picnic at the Park on Saturday.

REAL ESTATE —Several considerable sales of real estate at and near East Portland are reported to have been effected within the last two or three days.

TO SAIL —The steamship Oriflamme Metzger Commander will sail for San Francisco at 6 o clock this evening.

A FAILURE —For some reason the performance for the benefit of Mr Ilerton Saturday evening did not take place.

FATAL SUNSTROKE —On Friday a Chinaman employed on the railroad above Oregon City died of sunstroke.

WOOD BURNED —It is reported that a large lot of cord wood was burned yesterday in the woods west of the city.

BENEFIT —Remember the benefit to morrow evening to the talented young actress, Miss Minnie Pixley.

Coming Revolution in Austria

But there are the elements of civil discord and war which would be scarcely less bloodless than was the '66 campaign now agitated in Austria. That hated and fated race whose "hand is against every man" as saith the proverb—the Jew—is assuming a prominence in all the great Austrian cities which must sooner or later lead to trouble. The prominence of Jews in the commercial interests in Vienna which I have already alluded to is a source of great discontent and the recent tragic occurrences in the Roumanian city the other day may be repeated ere long in cities nearer to civilization. The Jews come crowding in in immense numbers from the Danubian provinces and succeed so well that Austrians stand no chance. Should there be an attempt to drive them out of Austria—than which nothing is more possible they would doubtless rise and fight for their newly established interests. They are already strong enough in Vienna not to fear oppression and the Austrians would have a severe struggle to oust them. In the smaller cities their presence is still more loathed and hated. The manner of governing the various cities in Austria differing so widely according to location it is not probable that there could be any combined legal movement to make the Jews "move on." For instance in Vienna the administration is a municipal council of 120 members in Prague it is a college of deputies numbering 80 members at Brussels a "grand committee," 48 in number, at Innspruck in the Tyrol a bourgeois committee at Trieste a city council. The executive power in most of the large cities rests with a burgomaster who is elected for four years, and sanctioned by the Emperor. The policy of these various governments will not be likely to accord as regards the Jews and the revolution will perhaps begin in petty tyrannies on the part of city authorities. A Jew in Vienna is already looked upon, in the streets very much as a dog is, and the wealthiest and most respectable members of the Hebrew ring are hissed when they appear at theaters, Bourse or concert. But the Austrian Jew is blessed with a thick cuticle and stands ridicule and insult with perfect equanimity as long as the heretics allow him to rake in the dollars. But once let his commercial and family interests suffer and he will turn warrior —Correspondence Boston Journal

EXTRAORDINARY FORGERY AT VIENNA —All Vienna has been talking for the last two days of the great fraud perpetrated with the lottery ticket of the Brunswick Railway Loan. On the 22d instant a young man badly dressed came into the well known exchange office of Sothen and asked to have the lottery ticket of the Brunswick Railway Loan which had been drawn and had won $80 000 discounted. The offer was accepted and the President of the Commercial Bank being present at his advice the ticket was taken to the House Dutschka, the agents of the Darmstadt Bank to be examined. These latter declared that the ticket was all right and could be discounted. The ticket was kept by the banking house which sent it off by post to the Darmstadt Bank. During the time that all this took place the person who had brought the ticket and called himself Scholz remained quiet in the exchange office. About 1 o clock he said he was hungry and went off with one of the clerks to have something to eat. When he returned all had been settled and he received the equivalent of the ticket, partly in ready money and partly in checks of the Commercial Bank. Two days after the news came by telegraph from Darmstadt Bank that the ticket had already been presented and paid and that in the ticket present the number had been falsified as a minute examination with a glass showed that a number had been scratched out. The House Dutschka had of course to bear the loss. The information was given at once to the police but hitherto no trace has been found of the swindler. He had discounted all the checks of the Commercial Bank and has since disappeared. On all sides inquiries are now being made after Scholz which is tantamount to inquiring about Mr Smith so common is the name in these parts. Many as you may imagine have been discovered but up to the present time not the right one —Vienna Corr ... [illegible]

OUR CITIZENS certainly deserve credit for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number of strangers coming to the State and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fisher No 91 Front street have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon other goods are of superior quality and sold at extreme low prices.

JOURNALISTS TO THE FRONT —Beranger once asserted that the time would come when the great men of France would be its journalists. Within a quarter of a century that prediction has been fulfilling itself not only in France but in England and America. The Vice President of the United States is a journalist and several Senators and Representatives have used the collected ... in forming and directing public opinion. During the past two years journalists have dignified several of the first class missions and in the composition of State administrations occupied honorable positions.

In France Olivier the Premier is a journalist and Herne editor of the ... and the celebrated M About are spoken of in connection with prominent administration posts. Rochefort is now in prison but none the less a power.

The list of English statesmen includes a long array of journalists for most literary men in that country have been largely contributors to the press where they have not directly occupied the editorial chair. Gladstone Disraeli Derby and Mill all were copious writers for the press. The leading contributor to the London Times is a member of Parliament and has held a Cabinet office. These are but a few of the names of those who largely owe to journalism in one form or another their prominence and power.

FOR THROAT Diseases and Affections of the Chest, BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES or Cough Lozenges are of great value. Build up the System.

Strength evaporates fast at this season. This is especially the case with all who live by the sweat of their brow. From every pore of the sieve-like skin a moisture exudes which contains the elements of vitality. Thereby the blood is impoverished the nerves relaxed the muscles weakened the digestion impaired the bowels disturbed and the animal spirits depressed. The constant drain that produces these effects cannot be arrested because it is due to the heat of the atmosphere but the loss of the life sustaining elements can be supplied by extra invigoration. Now therefore, is the time to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the most powerful and healthful of all vegetable tonics. Long experience has proved that nothing else will efficiently sustain and regulate the system when writing down under the double pressure of excessive heat and the constant physical or mental labor. All persons who have been tempted to try the local tonics (so called) which have been started by sordid speculators in almost every town and village with a view of turning a penny by the credulity of the unwary know this to their cost. It is a wise maxim that says "hold fast to that which is good." Of the forty millions of people in the United States probably one-fifth have tested the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters and know it to be a specific for dyspepsia biliousness nervous weakness general debility constipation fever and ague and want of appetite. That any of these should be persuaded to experiment with the worthless nostrums recommended by unscrupulous and ignorant empirics seems almost incredible.

The Voyagers.

From the depths of the Unknown,
[illegible]
All these [illegible]

[illegible]
Charged with [illegible] and misery,
Struggling for supremacy.

In their quaint thought[illegible] replies,
Great [illegible] mysteries.

Onward come with [illegible],
[illegible],
Interspersed with smiles and tears.

Gliding into fancy's realm,
With no hand to guide the helm,
Passions oftimes overwhelm.

When life's labor doth begin,
Born to become a [illegible] to sin,
Rapidly are ushered in.

Some will care for naught but pleasure,
Some will strive for worldly treasure,
Some seek glory in full measure.

Some will journey, ever singing,
Radiant hearts about them singing,
[illegible] fruits thus bounteously bringing.

Some from their abundant store
Will so help the sorrowing poor,
That they'll hunger never more.

Year by year will pass away,
Bringing age and slow decay,
Bringing locks of silver gray.

Then the shadows slowly lengthen,
Strangely then the pathway darken,
As with eager souls they hearken,

To the rustlings in the air,
To the last adieu to care,
To the pastor's parting prayer,

To the whispering from the river,
To the heart's instinctive quiver,
To the voice, "I will deliver."

Then the soul on angel's wing
Seeks for life's eternal spring—
Seeks the new awakening.

Hears the greeting from the Throne
"Oh, my child, well hast thou done,
To thy Father's mansion come."

—S. F. News Letter.

A Gem from Dickens.

Here is a sketch by Dickens, which has always seemed to be unsurpassed in beauty, in delicate fancy, in touching tenderness. We know those who have read it many, many, many times, and never without tears. Who can read it without wishing a blessing upon him who wrote it?

A CHILD'S DREAM OF A STAR

There was once a child, and he strolled about a good deal and thought of a number of things. He had a sister who was a child too, and his constant companion. These two used to wonder all day long. They wondered at the beauty of flowers, they wondered at the height and blueness of the sky; they wondered at the depth of the bright water; they wondered at the goodness and power of God, who made the lovely world.

They used to say to one another sometimes, "Supposing all the children on the earth were to die, would the flowers and the sky be sorry?" They believed they would be sorry. For, said they, the buds are the children of the flowers, and the little playful streams that gambol down the hillsides are the children of the waters and the smallest bright specks, playing at hide and seek in the sky all night, must surely be the children of the stars; and they would all be grieved to see their playmates, the children of men no more.

There was one clear star that used to come out in the sky before the rest, near the church spire, about the graves. It was larger and more beautiful, they thought, than all the others, and every night they watched for it, standing hand in hand at the window. Whoever saw it first cried out, "I see the star!" And often they cried out both together, knowing so well when it would rise, and where. So they grew to be such friends with it that before laying down in their beds, they looked out once again, to bid it good night; and when they were turning round to sleep, they would say, "God bless the star.

But while she was still very young, oh, very young, the sister drooped, and came to be so weak that she could no longer stand in the window at night; and then the child looked sadly out by himself, and when he saw the star, turned round to the patient, pale face on the bed:—"I see the star!" and then a smile would come upon his face, and a little weak voice used to say: "God bless my brother and the star!"

And so the time came all too soon, when the child looked out alone, and when there was no face on the bed; and when there was a little grave among the graves, not there before; and when the star made long rays down towards him, as he saw it through his tears.

Now, these rays were so bright, and they seemed to make such a beautiful, shining way from earth to Heaven, that when the child went to his solitary bed, he dreamed about the star; and dreamed that lying where he was, he saw a train of people taken up that shining road by angels. And the star opening, showed him a great world of light, where many more such angels waited to receive them.

All these angels, who were waiting, turned their beaming eyes upon the people who were carried up into the star, and some came out from the long rows in which they stood and fell upon the people's necks and kissed them tenderly, and went away with them down avenues of light, and were so happy in their company, that lying in the bed he wept for joy.

But there were many angels who did not go with them, and among them one he knew. The patient face that had once lain upon the bed was glorified and radiant, but his heart found out his sister among all the host.

His sister's angel lingered near the entrance of the star, and said to the leader among those who had brought the people thither—

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "No."

She was turning hopefully away, when the child stretched out his arms, and said, "Oh, sister, I am here! Take me!" And then she turned her beaming eyes upon him, and it was night; and the star was shining into his room, making long rays down towards him as he saw it through his tears.

From that hour forth the child looked out upon the star as on the home he was to go to, when his time should come, and he thought he did not belong to earth alone, but to the star, too, because of his sister's angel gone before.

There was a baby born to be a brother to the child; and while he was so little that he had never yet spoken a word, he stretched his tiny form out on the bed and died.

Again the child dreamed of the opened star, and of the company of angels, and the train of people, and all the rows of angels with their beaming eyes all turned upon those people's faces.

Said his sister's angel to the leader.

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Not that one, but another."

As the child beheld his brother's angel in her arms, he cried, "Oh, sister, I am here! Take me!" And she turned and smiled upon him, and the star was shining.

He grew to be a young man, and was busy at his books when an old servant came to him and said:

"Thy mother is no more. I bring her blessing on her darling son."

Again at night he saw the star, and all that former company. Said his sister's angel to the leader:

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Thy mother."

A mighty cry of joy went forth through all the stars, because the mother was reunited to her two children. And he stretched out his arms and cried, "Oh, mother, sister, and brother, I am here! Take me!" And they answered, "Not yet," and the star was shining.

He grew to be a man whose hair was turning gray, and he was sitting in his chair by the fireside, heavy with grief, and with his face bedewed with tears, when the star opened again.

Said his sister's angel to the leader, "Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Nay, but his maiden daughter."

And the man who had been the child saw his daughter, newly lost to him, a celestial creature among those three, and he said, "My daughter's head is on my mother's bosom, and her arm is around my mother's neck, and at her feet there is the baby of old time, and I can bear the parting from her, God be praised!"

And the star was shining.

Thus the child came to be an old man, and his once smooth face was wrinkled, and his steps were slow and feeble, and his back was bent. And one night as he lay upon his bed, his children standing around him, he cried as he cried so long ago:

"I see the star!"

They whispered to one another, "He is dying."

And he said, "I am. My age is falling from me like a garment, and I move towards the star as a child. And O, my Father, now I thank Thee that it has so often opened to receive those dear ones who await me."

And the star was shining; and it shines upon his grave.

Carl Schurz on the War in Europe

An immense mass meeting of Germans was held in New York July 21st, for the purpose of extending aid and sympathy to their countrymen at home. Governor Salomon, of Washington Territory, presided; Senator Carl Schurz spoke as follows:

I come rather exhausted by other work done in Congress, and I do not know whether I shall be able to address this audience as I wish to do. I expected to enjoy some rest at the close of the session of Congress, and now comes this war cry from Europe, by which every drop of German blood in this country is thrilled. But not the Germans alone in this country, but the Americans, too, have been thrilled by the European war-cry, and all America speaks at the present moment in the German spirit. A bloody drama awaits us in the old country. War is, of all things, the worst. Woe to the men who commence it without cause, as is the case now. Spain wants a German Prince for her King. France protests. But this protest is nonsense. No sensible man can think of a war of succession or believe in family alliances any more at the present day. Such thoughts are over and past with the nations of Europe. His Spanish throne pretext for war was, therefore, a foul one on the part of Napoleon. His second pretext is, that the French Ambassador had been insulted by the King of Prussia. But that Ambassador treated the King as no gentleman would treat a gentleman. We are here certainly not accustomed to praise Kings, but in this case we must say that old King William has acted as a gentleman. He acted according to the German maxim that impolite guests are thrown out of door. If Napoleon had been treated in a similar manner would he not have acted likewise? The war has not been commenced without cause, but on false, lying pretexts, France wants to dictate to Europe. The French nation acts as if it was of better stuff than others. When another Power of Europe increases one inch in territory then France wants also to have an increase, while when she increases, others need not increase. Such is the history of Europe. France wants, at the head of Romanism, to rule all Europe, and therefore she aims to disturb and prevent the unity of the German elements. The Americans know that in consequence of the modern means of transportation and communication as steam and telegraphs, there will be soon no talk any more about the equilibrium of Europe, but about the equilibrium of the world. In this equilibrium, also, America will figure, and she will have no truer and better friend than Germany. Both united will carry their free commerce to all parts of the world. For these reasons, the Americans are on the side of Germany in this war. They sympathise with Germany not only in remembrance of the affair of the Mexican Empire, not for the hundreds of millions of dollars from German, next, with which American bonds were bought. Germany's victory will mean the fall of French Imperialism, the lies of armed peace which destroys the welfare of nations and creates oppression and poverty. The great German Middle Empire on the European Continent shall mean peace and happiness. Each of us must do what is in his power to make the good and great cause of Germany victorious. He cannot be a good man who forgets a father or a mother, and he cannot be a good adopted citizen who regards his native land with contempt. But let us remain within the laws of this country, which do not forbid us to show brethren across the ocean our sympathies, to admonish them to stand firmly and to assist them by our means. Let us tell them: "If old Germany stands firmly, the whole German world will be with you." The speech was interrupted by cheers and received with the most enthusiastic applause, and the singers then sung and the band played the German national air, "What is the German's Fatherland?" The other speakers of the evening were Messrs. C. Ottendorfer, Dr. H Von Holst, Sigismond Kaufman, Dr. Donai and Gen. Sigel. The meeting adjourned with three hearty cheers to united Germany. During the evening $20,000 were subscribed on and near the platform for the benefit of the German soldiers and their widows and orphans.

Why America does not Sympathize with Napoleon.

[From the Chicago Republican.]

In the darkest hour of the rebellion, when the United States was humiliated by the insolent attitude of England in the affair of the Trent, it is well known that Napoleon strongly urged upon Lord Palmerston a declaration of war by France and England against this country, for no reason whatever but to break up and destroy its republican government. Failing in this, the despot undertook to destroy the Republic of Mexico, and erect a monarchy on this continent, as a standing menace to the United States. Getting kicked out of that country, he contrived to leave Maximillian, the unfortunate dupe of his duplicity, and the tool of his ambition, to be captured and put to death by the enraged and outraged republican Mexicans for the crimes the unscrupulous French Emperor had committed against them. Had the South won the battle of slavery, it is well known that an alliance with Napoleon was one of the first fruits it anticipated. His ports were always freely opened to pirate ships, and it was from Cherbourg that the Alabama sailed when the Kearsarge sent her to the bottom. During the whole contest not a word of sympathy or approval greeted the North from the Government of France.

Now this man of bad eminence, has put his bayonets at the throat of liberty in Europe, and the sympathy of the United States is evoked to aid the crime! He is calling upon us to respect a neutrality that he outraged and insulted—to withhold our hands from giving aid to the Fatherland, while he gave aid and stimulus to rebels here to trample us in the dust. A nice character that, to call on our people for either friendship or sympathy.

Throughout the contest the voice of Germany was with us, cheering the loyal North to do its perfect work. To Russia we owe a like debt of gratitude and good will. How a citizen of America, in view of the acts of Napoleon during our trouble, and his persistent efforts to destroy us, can affect sympathy or respect for that oppressor, exceeds all bounds of comprehension. He surpassed England, even, in the malignity of his purposes, and did everything that an enemy could do, except attack us. That he proposed to do, and was only restrained by the refusal of England to become an ally.

Marshal McMahon.

The commander of the French forces engaged in the operations of which an account is given by telegraph today, is Marshal McMahon. Following is a brief sketch of him:

Marshal McMahon, a descendant from a family of Irish nobles who lost their all in defense of James II., and remained in France after the final overthrow of the Stuarts, began his military career during the war with Algiers, in 1830, particularly distinguishing himself in the assault of Constantine. The re-establishment of the Empire in France found him a Brigadier General and a devoted adherent of the Emperor. The Crimean war established his reputation as a soldier. At the head of the division formerly commanded by Gen. Canrobert, he stormed and captured the Malakoff, one of the most brilliant feats in modern warfare. Following the war with Russia came that with Austria in Italy. In the campaign of 1859 he again distinguished himself by the celerity of his movements and the skill he displayed in handling his men. To his ability and dash were due the great victory of Magenta, and as a reward for his services Napoleon created him a Marshal of France and Duke of Magenta. There is not in the French army a more dashing officer than Marshal McMahon. A close student of the military maneuvers of the First Napoleon, he believes in sudden and rapid marches upon the enemy.

STATE BOUNTY BONDS.

OFFICE STATE TREASURER,
Salem, July 11, 1870.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the undersigned, at his office, until 12 M., August 15, 1870, for the surrender of Bounty Bonds issued under the provisions of an "Act of the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, granting bounties to volunteers of this State, enlisted in the service of the United States," approved October 24th, 1864, at the lowest rates not exceeding par value, as may redeem the greatest number of bonds. Eighteen thousand dollars now in the Treasury, applicable in the redemption of said bonds. Bids to include interest to date of surrender.

Bids to be addressed to E. N. COOKE, jy13-1m State Treasurer.

PROPOSALS

For Furnishing and Delivering the Cut Stone required in the construction of the U. S. Custom-House, Post Office, &c., to be received at Portland, Oregon.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until M. of the eighth day of August, 1870, for furnishing and delivering at the site of building, at Portland, Oregon, all of the cut stone work, inclusive of and above the water table, but excluding steps, required for the United States Custom House and Post Office, according to the drawings numbered 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, and the terms of this advertisement.

The stone required for the building must be of the best quality granite, limestone, sandstone, or other free stone.

No stone will be considered that has not a fine grain, is not of uniform color, free from iron or other discoloring substances, and capable of withstanding the action of the elements, and from quarries that have been fully tested by actual use in other buildings.

All of the stones must be of bright and uniform color, free from sap or rifts, or any other defects and must be sound in every particular. They must be cut full to the square and true, out of wind, sharp and clean, to all arrises, and of the dimensions required by the drawings.

If defects are discovered or concealed by artificial [illegible], such stones as are so manipulated will be rejected, as will also all on which has been [illegible] in [illegible] or during transportation by iron rust, grease, or in any other manner.

Each bid must be accompanied by a sample block, six inch cube, showing on its sides various grades of cutting applicable to the quality of the stone, and also embraced in the proposal, and the work to be done must be fully equal to the sample of the material selected. Delivery will be made at such times and in such quantities as may be required.

The work must be as described herein, and in accordance with the drawings before referred to, and will include all work and material necessary for the furnishing of the cut stone work ready to set.

The work must be done in strict accordance with the [illegible] and sections, and the bonding will be made thorough, to the satisfaction of the superintendent, whether it be distinctly shown in the drawings or not. Lewis holes are required to be drilled by the contractor, and such lewis holes he may drill for his own convenience will not be allowed for. The expense of all trimming necessary to fit the ashlar or other work will be charged to the contractor, as the work must be perfectly ready to set when delivered.

The ashlar will be back rebated into all door and window dressings as shown on the drawings. The entire job must be done to the satisfaction of the Superintendent and the approval of the Supervising Architect, or his agent.

Proposals must be made for the whole of the work, and all information to be made in the printed form and bonds entered by the bond of two responsible persons in the sum of ten thousand (10,000) dollars that the bidder will accept and perform the contract, if awarded him. The bond [illegible] by the United States District Judge or Clerk of the United States Court of the district in which the bidder resides.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if it be deemed for the interest of the Government so to do, and any bid that does not conform in every respect to the requirements of this advertisement will not be considered. Plans may be seen and forms of proposals may be procured on application to this office.

Payments to be made monthly, upon delivery and acceptance of the stone by the Superintendent, deducting ten per cent until the final completion of the contract.

Proposals must be [illegible] in a sealed envelope, endorsed, "Proposals for Cut Stone Work for United States Post Office and Custom House, Portland, Oregon," and will be addressed to
